Congressional Canvass.

Last Monday Judge Arthur, of Covington addressed the people of this county at the Court-House in this city. He had a respectable audience to hear him. He stands about on the same platform that he did in his last canvass for Congress. He announced himself a candidate for Congress, and asked for the votes of the people of this county, at the next August Election.

There are quite a number of candidates in the field, at this time. We will mention three beside Mr. A. Col. T. L. Jones, of Campbell co., is we understand is a candidate for re-election. Dr. Chambers, of Gallatin, is an aspirant, and the Warsaw News informs us that one Judge Cox, of Carroll, has been brought prominently forward as a Democrat worthy in every respect of Congressional honors. The "News" asserts that the people of that portion of the District feel that they are entitled to the right of furnishing the candidate for Congress, and lean towards Cox as its "coming man." The northern democracy have one representative in Congress named Cox, familiarly known as "Sunset Cox." He is used by the radicals as a "butt" of the concern. We hope Judge Cox is not a relative of "Sunset." If the Judge has determined to run and try his luck before the democracy of the 6th district, we expect to hear from him soon, and we want to know whether he favors 1st. Repudiation;

2nd, If he accepts the fraudulent adoption of the XV Amendment as Constitutional;

3rd, Will he accept the promulgation of that Amendment as final, and drop the subject.

All the candidates if they expect to be sustained by the democracy must come up to these propositions or take a back seat.

Judge Cox, we understand, has declared that it is his "opinion that the bonded debt of the United States was unconstitutionally contracted and is in favor of repudiating it."

Repudiation. The proposition of repudiation has taken fresh hold on the minds of the people. The fact that they are now enslaved by a government of their own making, and that they should give up their sovereignty and independence, give up their property, and their all to keep up an oppressive, tyrannical, and extravagant set of office holders, for no other reason than that they are radicals, seems curious; that the taxes of the Federal government are to be collected to pay a lazy squad of Shylocks, who hold the bonds of the "best government in the world," so-called, and these taxes so onerous and oppressive and exorbitant that it is with much effort and struggle that men can raise money sufficient to pay these taxes every year, whether they have a successful crop and a surplus to sell from the farm or not. The people everywhere, are declaring that taxes are so heavy that it is equal to confiscation—and that they must either give up all they have on earth, all their possessions to the Federal government, or repudiate the debt.

Outright repudiation is the only hope for the country.

The proposition is just this—the Federal government is a rotten and broken down concern—it is a regular "dead beat," and owes more money than it can pay—it is bankrupt, and if permitted to carry out its unholy designs the people will be compelled to go into bankruptcy too.

So it has at last come to the test: Shall we go into bankruptcy, and poverty, or shall we go for repudiation? It is left with the voter; he is the architect of his own fortune; if he permits this government to rob him and his little ones of the bread and meat which he has gained by hard labor, it is done by his consent.

Vampire, this Polypus attenuatus, and stand up like men and vote the robbers down. Men, who are too cowardly to vote for their rights are not brave enough to be free, and will lose their liberties, if they have any very soon.

Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. Where is your liberty when the tax gatherer carries away all your hard earnings, and threatens you with soldiers and bayonets, when you scrap up your last dollar, and find that you have not enough to satisfy his hedious cry for more, more money.

Let this question be discussed in the family circle, and everywhere; voters should refuse to vote for any candidate who would not go for repudiation.

The reason why money is so stringent now, and times so hard, is because the government has drained the country by excessive taxation.

Then vote for men, who will repudiate.

Our Legislature and Public Printer.

Quite a spirited contest took place recently, in our Legislature, for the position of Public Printer. There were two prominent candidates, Mr. Barak Thomas, and Mr. S. I. M. Major. The latter gentleman was elected without much trouble. He had filled the place before, and he hangs to it with a death-like grip.

The members of our Legislature, many of them, seem to carry out one principle at home and another at Frankfort. For instance, most of them are elected to represent the people, because they can say very harsh things about the yankees.

They seem to be so full of antipathy for radicals and radicalism that they naturally boil or sash over, like an overflowing bucket of water. And how terrific and destructive their thunderbolts are, our readers shall soon know. The people believe that all the gass which many of them throw off, is the result of fixed and irrevocable principles, instilled in their whole physical systems, and before they would yield them up or violate them in the least, would be led to the auto date. But how changed they become when they commence breathing the corrupt atmosphere of that "hole in the ground," (as Roger Hanson used to say) (Frankfort) where the true representative falls in with the two faced dirt-eating politician, and soon learns that he should do nothing to please the people, or their constituents, but implicitly obey leaders.

And who are the leaders, or who assume to be the leaders of Kentucky Democracy?

Let us look at their antecedents and see how much they are entitled to the name of Democrat.

The first we will mention is the Hon. Garrett Davis, of Bourbon county. He has been sent to the United States Senate by a Kentucky Legislature, since the close of the war.

In 1861, Mr. Davis was a howling Union shrieker. He united his efforts with the lowest element in the country to make war upon the South and upon Kentucky. He assisted "Bull Nelson" to raise an army of devastation, to rob the people of Kentucky, and followed him to the Mountains, harranging the Union element, and threatening the Democracy—as he went—in fact he seconded every proposition on the part of the yankees, to persecute and destroy our people. For whipping old Counselor Grimes, of Bourbon county, with an ax handle, and for the dirty work which he done for the radicals against the Kentucky people, that miserable time serving Legislature which met in Frankfort in 1861-62 rewarded him with a seat in the United States Senate. There he out-yanked the yanks, for no sooner had the Fort Donelson prisoners been received and located, than Mr. Davis asked the Senate to reduce Gen. Buckner from a soldier to a citizen, that he might be tried for treason, so-called, and put to death. The radical Senate refused to listen to the fanatic, and voted his resolution down. For much of the poverty, sadness and woe brought upon our people, we are indebted to Garrett Davis. All his acts were on a par with the above, until he fell out with Abraham Lincoln, and with the radical party, because he could not rule it, when he commenced to make war on them. We are not certain, but we believe he is the Radical in the latter part of but he is still in the ring, for which he can thank a so-called Democratic Legislature. Those who voted for him in the Kentucky Legislature in 1866, should get a Journal of the United States Senate and read his political record. If he had a drop of Democratic blood in his veins, we believe it would have killed him. He could not survive it; and if those who elected him had any blood of the kind in their veins, they have not proved it. To elect Garrett Davis to the Senate of the United States was an insult to the State of Kentucky, as well as an insult to the Radicals.

The same Legislature that elected him, gave Mr. Harney, the editor of the Louisville Democrat, the place of Public Printer. (Mr. H. has been dead some time,) a man who endorsed all the loathsome acts of the Federals while making war against the people of this State.

The Legislature chosen to represent the people, the following winter after the election of Davis and Harney, put Mr. McCreery in the place of Mr. James Guthrie. This was an improvement in the political morals of that body, worthy of mention, and the people of the State were pleased with the selection. But the Legislature which holds the Capital in its possession this winter, is by far the biggest show of misrepresentatives and humbugs ever congregated at Frankfort. They turned McCreery out of the Senate and elected John W. Stevenson, the man who claims to be from the State of Virginia—one of the F. F. V.'s,—and who claims to be the son of an original Union man, with just enough Democracy in him to hold office in the party, provided he can be permitted to go against the party whenever he can make more than to adhere to it, and go against the State, whenever the Federal Government's interests come in conflict with that of the people of Kentucky. This man Stevenson is reported to have been the special friend of that infamous old Abolition viper Salmon P. Chase, at the last National Democratic Convention—and we understand that this old free-nigger hearted wight is yet a candidate for President, and that Stevenson is in favor of his nomination. Every man who voted for him from the beginning should never be sent to Legislate again, should never be trusted by the people. Stevenson is unworthy the confidence of the Democracy of Kentucky. When Stevenson and Davis are in the Senate together, it can be said with truth, that Kentucky has no representative in the United States Senate. We will have a brace of back-action dirt-eaters there.

We now come to the point where we desire our readers to take notice, as it is about the last significant political act which this Legislature can boast.

In a Louisville Daily paper of the 9th inst, we find a long letter from Mr. Lewis E. Harvie, of Frankfort, in which he makes a statement which is very damaging to Mr. S. I. M. Major, with reference to his financial operations, as Public Printer—and in bringing his letter to a close says:

"Aside from grave considerations of public duty, I have now in my possession papers signed and sworn to by Mr. Major during the war, in which he went even so far as to endorse the enlistment of slaves in the United States army (not to save life, or person from imprisonment, but simply to enable him to make money), which if published, would, in the estimation of every unflinching Democrat and true Southern man, furnish a conclusively justifying motive for my earnest desire that the Democratic party of Kentucky should not be so unstable upon so unstable and insecure a foundation as Mr. Major's political record would constitute."

It is the duty of Mr. Harvie to produce those papers, that the Democracy may know who it is that this Legislature have chosen as Public Printer. If men seek position in the Democratic party, let us know who they are, and what they have been doing.

Mr. Case vs. Mr. Miller.

MR. EDITOR:—"The long continued and tiresome controversy on the question of baptism, conducted by several gentlemen through the medium of your paper, we have no doubt has almost exhausted your patience, but we hope you may yet publish this, as a reply to Mr. Case, in your last weeks issue. We do not profess to be the champion of Mr. Miller, for we recognize in him the ability to take care of his own case in any contest where he deems the subject worthy of his notice, but we desire to secure the triumph of truth and fair dealing if possible, without regard to favoritism or personal considerations.

Mr. Case says. Speaking of Justin Martyr, that "Mr. Miller did not give the language as his opinion of Justin's teaching, but as a quotation from Justin, and then quotes Miller: "Here then are thirteen names the most distinguished in the early history of the church, each one proclaiming baptism by affusion."

"I have been compelled to give very brief quotations from these authors, because you have not space for more." This Mr. Case holds as proof that the language used was a quotation. Does he suppose that when he thus calls attention to the letter of Mr. Miller, his ipse dixit will be received without referring to the original? If he will but look at the letter he will discover that in the quotation, is two separate sentences, and further, that six of the thirteen authors are represented in his own language, and seven given signed by the governor, and have become laws since their assemblage in December. Acts have been amended, altered, and repealed in such rapid succession that I venture the assertion there is not a lawyer in the county who, after a week's investigation, could tell us how much and how far we have been legislated for and governed. I am not sufficiently versed in the Law to comprehend the intricacies, the minuteness, and the vagaries of this whole-sale legislation. Sovereign in their power, and disengaged from all concerns, save that of framing laws for their country's good, they determine, enlarge, or abridge, as they may see fit, the rights and privileges of their constituents. Every variety of form and feature of legislation is embraced within the scope of their legislative enactments.

If our happiness consists in being attended to, in living under the restrictions of law, if our welfare and prosperity increase, and our rights are guarded in proportion to the amount of legislation, surely we may congratulate ourselves that we are blessed with the best government under the sun.

An old adage says: "That government is best that governs least." If this saying be true, "the congregated wisdom of the State" has fatally misapprehended the true interests of the people.

How are we benefited by the thousand and one laws of every conceivable form and kind, which have been dispensed with inconsiderate prodigality from the halls of legislation to the people of our good old Commonwealth? Many of them have been enacted, repealed, and reenacted time out of number; others have been a dead letter upon the statute book from the moment they went forth clothed with the sanction of authority. Then again laws are enacted with the most imprudent haste, without deliberation, not because they are demanded by the necessities of the case, but because legislators are brought under the influence of an outside pressure in the interest of a selfish and partisan purpose. The result is that one legislature undoes the work of its predecessor, that we have repeal after repeal, amendment after amendment, and our laws are so numerous, varied, and complicated, that we common people are wholly unable to digest their contents, or reduce to consistency the almost endless variety of their provisions. I do not pretend to be able to suggest, much less, to apply a remedy, for this manifest evil. I merely wish to state the fact of its existence, which must be evident to all that have taken the trouble to look into the legislation of the past; and my sojourn in Frankfort, where our honorable representatives are now busy making more laws, served to intensify my conviction, that we are legislated for far beyond our actual necessities.

Mr. Case vs. Mr. Miller.

MR. EDITOR:—"The long continued and tiresome controversy on the question of baptism, conducted by several gentlemen through the medium of your paper, we have no doubt has almost exhausted your patience, but we hope you may yet publish this, as a reply to Mr. Case, in your last weeks issue. says they were all quotations. How any gentleman can have the cheek to make such assertions, in the face of certain detection, is beyond our comprehension. Our greatest virtue, charity! is taxed to the uttermost to forgive such demagogery, even when the object to be obtained is a worthy one, but here, simply for the sake of partizan triumph, misrepresentation is resorted to, and the honesty of a brother in the cause of truth called in question. It is well known to the readers of this paper, that we are not the special champion of any particular mode of baptism, but have only claimed that what one sincerely believes, to him is truth, retaining to oneself the right to doubt the doctrine taught by some that the gates of Heaven are only to be reached through water, be it in a river, pond or laver. As to our assertions concerning a laver, we must, in all deference to the gentleman, contend that we are right. We said a laver was kept in a house or church for holding water, which his Reverence disputes, but in the same sentence describes those erected in Solomon's Temple, about ten hundred and four years before Christ, and then gravely asserts, that there had been no lavers or baptistries erected in the churches in the days of Justin Martyr, one hundred and forty years after Christ. We are of the opinion that Justin is equally as good authority for what was customary in his times, as the teacher of the 19th century. His Church History contradicts the teaching of Justin, is doubtless a piece of what that "well authenticated history" establishing pools for bathing prisoners in the jails of the East when Paul baptized the Philippian Jailor. Justin Martyr says, they used the laver in places of worship in his day. D. W. Case says Justin is mistaken. Whom will you believe reader?

Lavers in Solomon's Temple were hemispherical in shape, and used for holding water. A large one containing two thousand baths was built upon wheels, and supporting images, and the water was used for washing the hands and feet of the Priests. See 1st Kings and Josephus, Book VII, Chap. III. They also had ten smaller lavers, holding 40 baths each. See 1st Kings. Calmet says, holding six hundred and eighty-five and one-half Scotch pints. These lavers contained water to wash the Sacrifice, but not a hint is given that they were used for any purpose but to hold water, it being drawn into basins for use. We have 1st Kings, 2nd Chron., 2nd Kings, which is all the authority we now need, sustaining our assertion that a laver was used in a church for holding water, and Justin Martyr, 140 after Christ, still asserting it, but Mr. Case says, we made a serious blunder about the use of that vessel. None of these authorities justify the inference, that they were ever used for immersion. Yet he says the leading to the laver was as favorable to immersion as to sprinkling.

We are sorry that the facts of history fail to sustain the gentleman, he being a teacher in whom many rely for instruction. The water kept in these lavers was for cleansing, and the immersion of any object would not only defile the water, but the vessel. His treatment of this subject looks very like sophistry to us. All authority coming from whatever source it may, unfavorable to exclusive immersion is condemned as unworthy of the gentleman's respect or credence, and every chapter of every book, the Word of God included, that does not sustain his peculiar dogma, is treated with scorn, and made the text for declamatory abuse and ridicule.

After all, we are rejoiced at the amiable manner in which his Reverence closed his letter. He showed a disposition to be facetious that has never appeared in any other of his many articles, and we are disposed to attribute it to the congeniality of the subject, and the pleasant familiarity he enjoys now, or has enjoyed in the past with those Devils who so wonderfully revived his spirits.—Those demons that imitated the christian ordinance of baptism by sprinkling, we doubt not did so some times by immersion also, unless they were more particular than their successors of modern times, for now there is no ordinance however sacred, but what some hypocritical devil is ready to imitate to deceive his fellow man.

If affusion was the only mode practiced by the demons of old, the fashions is certainly changed, for they now take water as kindly as ducks, and count it unto themselves for righteousness. Many of its advocates can claim no more benefit from it than was enjoyed by a venerable colored brother, baptized many years ago near Mt. Zion in Cynamore. As the minister led the old darky up the bank to receive the congratulations of friends, he stammered out as well as the water that came streaming over his face from his wooly head would permit, "Bress God I feel like I'd just crossed over Jordan." If they do feel penitent on that solemn occasion it would be better for many, to be literally transported to that better region typified by the crossing over that classic stream. Observation teaches us that however much good may be claimed as the result of that ordinance, but little is so manifest as to be observed at a casual glance. We sinners who perhaps don't know the signs by which it may be recognized, fail to see the fruits of water regeneration, in a very favorable light. Men seem to be much the same to us after receiving the water that they were before, and the amount of benefit done the subject does not seem to be all regulated by the amount of water used on him. We have great reverence for piety and are ever ready to do homage to any ordinance or ceremony, thought by the faithful to be essential to their safety, but from the amount of wrangling over baptism and the denunciation by opponents of each and every mode of administering it we conclude, that more evil has grown out of it than water will wash away. It does appear that other ceremonies can be compromised by all sects, but this vital (?) ordinance must conform to the prejudice or conviction, you choose to call it, and no "jot or tittle" of that conviction can be omitted. If baptism means washing, and washing means cleansing, and all mean immersion, it would take a wonderful immersing to wash a way the spirit of contention, and cleanse from improper motives and unjust aspersions, the minds and hearts of some who have contributed to this useless controversy. —KEEZICKS.

Irritable Invalids. Indigestion not only effects the physical health but the dispositions and tempers of its victims. The dyspeptic becomes, too, in a measure demoralized by his sufferings. He is subject to fits of irritation, sullenness, or despair, as the case may be. A preternatural sensitiveness which he cannot control, leads him to misconstrue the words and acts of those around him, and his intercourse even with those nearest and dearest to him is not unfrequently marked by exhibitions of testiness foreign to his real nature. These are the mental phenomena of the disease, for which the invalid cannot be justly held responsible, but they occasion much household discomfort. It is to the interest of the home circle, it is essential to family harmony as well as to the rescue of the principal sufferer from a state not far removed from impenitent insanity, that these symptoms of morbid disturbance be promptly removed. This can only be done by removing their physical cause, a derangement of the functions of the stomach and its allied viscera, the liver and bowels. Upon these three important organs Hostetter's Stomach Bitters act simultaneously, producing a thorough and salutary change in their condition. The vegetable ingredients of which the preparation is composed are of a renovating, regulating and alterative character, and the stimulant which lends activity to their remedial virtues is the purest and best that can be extracted from the most wholesome of all cereals, viz: sound rye. No dyspeptic can take this genial restorative for a single week without experiencing a notable improvement in his general health. Not only will his bodily sufferings abate from day to day, but his mind will recover rapidly from its listlessness and irritability, and this happy change will manifest itself in his demeanor to all around him.

P. Frewitt, Elkton, Todd county, Md. He will send them the necessary instructions by return mail. It should be remembered that indigestion and all nervous affections are caused by a disordered stomach.

Mr. L. Vanhook has a very desirable Building Lot, which he wishes to sell. See advertisement in today's paper.

Sold.

Mr. Joseph Murray sold a lot to S. O. Ekler, on the Millersburg Turnpike for $675. It was taken for debt.

Renaker Hall.

On Sunday night, Eder Lampton, will preach at Renaker Hall, morning and evening. Everybody is invited.

Our Town Clock.

Servant persons have inquired of us, the reason the Town Clock does not strike right, or why it strikes 1 ever now and then. We say she needs some attention.

A Wrestling Match.

Came off back of Newport, on Saturday, between Samuel McIntosh and Barney Mulligan, for a stake of fifty dollars. The former was the victor.

Stable Floor Fell.

An upper floor in the stable of Mr. H. Carter, of Nicholas county, fell the other day from the excessive weight of corn upon it. Several parties were injured, but none fatally.

The Everett Brothers.

This troupe gave an entertainment in this city, on last Tuesday night, and their slight of hand tricks and magic performances were very good, and the presents, which they give away, are very nice. Every one should see them. They will stay until Monday, and on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock give a Matinee Tickets to Matinee 25 cents.

Religious.

The Baptist Church which was recently dedicated at Catawba Station, on the Covington and Lexington Railroad, has had a very interesting religious meeting going on there for the last two weeks. The Rev. Barbee, closed the meeting there last Sunday with 29 new additions, all baptized by immersion.

Elders C. K. Marshall and R. M. Gano, recently closed a meeting at Gallatin, Tenn., with 84 additions.

The meeting of the Mite Society will be held tomorrow evening the 18th inst., at the residence of C. B. Cook, Esq., at seven o'clock, for the Church of the Advent, Protestant Episcopal. Until further notice Divine service will commence at 11 a. m., and 7 p. m., instead of 10.30 and 6.30 as heretofore. Sunday School at 2 p. m.

The Sun.

The Louisville Sun, a daily paper, has been enlarged and improved very greatly, showing an unusual prosperity in business. We are always pleased to learn of the prosperity of any of our contemporaries, financially speaking, but the ambiguous announcement of the politics the Sun don't suit us. This is no time to hold back and halt between two opinions. You must be with us or against us—

Shine out fair Sun upon the glass,
That we may see your color as you pass.

Chicken Fighting.

Col. Thomas G. Bacon, of Edgefield, S. C., and Dr. Geo. of Selma, Ala., have arranged for the array of twenty-one cocks each, or the 22d instant, at the Lafayette race course, near Augusta, Ga., to test the fighting qualities of the game fowls of the respective States. Of the number shown, all matches made will be fought for a stake of one hundred dollars, with a stake of one thousand dollars laid upon the main. A large attendance of the patrons of the pit is expected to witness this contest for the belt.

The chicken fight which took place at Paris on the 10th inst., is said to have been numerously attended; and that nine chickens were matched and eight of them fought, 4 of them was won by each party, which made it a draw game. The Harrison boys matched them in other games and beat them.

Mr. Henry De Buss, of the De-Buss Tub Company, of Cincinnati, called to see us last Tuesday.

A. Williamson, shoe dealer on Pike street, has just received a new and splendid lot of hats, boots and shoes. Call and see his stock.

A Dead Bent.

Some time ago, a fellow named Geo. A. Deitz, hailing from Chambersburg, Pa., sent us an advertisement of his seed farm, &c., with request to send him our bill. We did so. He answered by offering us seed in exchange for said bill. We declined. We wanted cash. He hasn't sent us any cash. We believe him a dead bent. He beat us once. We beat him now. Hand him around quillists!—Frankfort Commonwealth.

Architect and Builder.

We have been shown two Drawings made by Mr. J. M. Dill, Architect and Builder of this place, which for style and beauty, surpasses any thing we have ever seen. Mr. Dill tells us he will save all those contemplating Building, fifty per cent, by calling on him, at his Shop corner of Walnut and Bridge street, before getting any other Architect to make their drawing, or if he is entrusted with the contract, will complete the work for less money than any other man in Harrison county and furnish drawings and specifications free of charge.

Social Party.

A social party was given by Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Cook, of our city, to their friends, on last Monday night. It was a splendid affair. A large crowd of the elite of the "Laided City," were present. The young ladies looked very handsome, and danced with that ease and grace characteristic of our gentle folks. A. though the night was dark and inclement, the countenances of the gay and giddy assembly, made every thing bright and lively and happy. The company were well received and treated with hospitality, by Mr. and Mrs. C.

Ring's Vegetable Ambrosia.

Those irreverent jabs who called names after a certain "bald head" of old deserved their untimely end, because at that time no panacea had been discovered to restore the human hair upon the bald spots. But now Ring's Vegetable Ambrosia is known to possess the rare merit of invigorating the roots and filling them so full of life, where not entirely dead, that they cannot help putting forth a new growth which rivals in beauty the locks of youth.

The only Reliable Cure for Dys- pepsia in the known World.
DR. WISHART'S GREAT AMERICAN DYSPEPSIA PILLS AND PINE TREE CORDIAL are a positive and infallible cure for dyspepsia in its most aggravated form, and no matter of how long standing.
They penetrate the secret abode of this terrible disease, and exterminate it, root and branch, forever.
They alleviate the agony and silent suffering that tongue can tell.
They are noted for curing the most desperate and hopeless cases, when every known means fail to afford relief.
No form of dyspepsia can resist their penetrating power.

DR. WISHART'S
PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL.
It is the vital principle of the Pine Tree, obtained by a peculiar process in the distillation of the tar, by which its highest medical properties are retained. It invigorates the digestive organs and restores the appetite. It strengthens the debilitated system.
It purifies and enriches the blood, and expels from the system the corruption which renders the blood impure. It dissolves the mucus or phlegm which stops the air passages of the lungs. Its healing principle acts upon the irritated surface of the lungs and throat, penetrating to each diseased part, relieving pain and subduing inflammation. It is the result of years of study and experiment, and it is offered to the afflicted with positive assurance of its power to cure the following diseases, if the patient has not too long delayed a resort to the means of cure—
Consumption of the Lungs, Cough, Sore
Throat and Breast, Bronchitis, Liver Complaint, Bilious and Bleeding
Piles, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Diphtheria, &c.
A medical expert, holding honorable collegiate diplomas, devotes his entire time to the examination of patients at the office parlors. Associated with him are three con-

DOTY'S WASHING MACHINE.
LATELY MUCH IMPROVED—AND THE NEW
Universal Clothes Wringer.
Improved with Rowell's Patent Double Cog wheels, and the Patent Stop, are now unquestionably far superior to any apparatus for washing clothes ever invented, and will save their cost twice a year, by saving labor and clothes.
Those who have used them give testimony
as follows:
"We use our machine much; could not be persuaded to do without it, and with the aid of Doty, we feel that we are masters of the situation."—Rev. L. Scott, Bishop M. E.
Church.
"It is worth a dollar a week in any family."—N. Y. Tribune.
"In the laundry of my house there is a perpetual thanksgiving on Mondays for the invention."—Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler.
"Every week has given it a stronger hold upon the affections of the inmates of the laundry."—N. Y. Observer.
"I heartily commend it to economists of time, money, and contentment."—Rev. Dr.
Bellevue.
"Friend Doty—Your last improvement of your Washing Machine is a complete success. I assure you 'our Machine,' after a year's use, is thought more of to-day than ever, and would not be parted with under any circumstances."—Solon Robinson.
"Your Washing Machine has been in daily use in our laundry; as all the housekeeper expresses herself as highly pleased with it, it certainly accomplishes a greater amount of work, with less labor, and does not wear the clothes near so much as the old fashioned wash-board. By using it, one laundry is dispensed with."—Wm. M. F. Round, Superintendent of Infant Department of St.
Catharine's Nursery, N. Y. City.

PRICES—A Fair Offer.
